SUMMARY

Client Success and Account Management professional with 15+ years owning strategic B2B relationships from deployment through renewal and expansion. Built a reseller partner book to ~94% retention through disciplined account health tracking and proactive risk management, and carries direct financial-services exposure from managing a banking-industry client and pursuing a major banking prospect to finalist stage. Runs an AI-driven business today (Solenzo), using AI tools by default to move faster on account strategy, reporting, and client communication, the same instinct this role asks for.
