SUMMARY

Digital marketing analyst with 15+ years turning campaign, website, and CRM data into decisions across SEO, paid media, email, and website performance, including 5+ years building the CRM/marketing-automation systems that generate that data. Built performance dashboards tracking lead generation, funnel progression, campaign ROI, and pipeline velocity for concurrent client accounts; at Wix, supported an e-commerce segment that grew website traffic 30% and conversion rates 25%. Partner with channel specialists across SEO, paid, and email to identify meaningful trends, question results that don't add up, and turn findings into recommendations non-technical stakeholders can act on.
