SUMMARY

Marketing strategist with 15+ years across agency and founder-led environments, autonomously owning multi-client account portfolios end to end while producing the copy, content, and campaign strategy behind them. Built an AI-driven outreach system that scores a business's digital footprint and personalizes engagement at scale, and translate loosely-defined client goals into structured content and campaign logic. Comfortable owning accounts independently, staying current on channel shifts, and using AI tooling to keep content production moving at agency pace.
