SUMMARY

Client-facing professional with a foundation in heavy-outbound-call environments (4 years as a business development representative, building a steady flow of qualified conversations by phone) and 15+ years of customer service and account support since. Includes B2B channel sales to agencies focused on healthcare clients at Birdeye, real exposure to the healthcare vertical, from the marketing-technology side rather than direct clinical or payer-facing work. Comfortable with high-volume outbound calling, careful data entry across CRM systems, and maintaining accuracy under a documentation-heavy workload.
