SUMMARY

B2B marketer and former top-performing SaaS account executive with 15+ years across sales, customer success, enablement, and content. I've been the seller who needed the right proof at the right deal stage, so I know which evidence moves a deal and which just gets published. I've used third-party research as sales-enablement material in a partner channel, built automated review-generation programs for clients, trained partners and tenured AEs to communicate product value, and written thought leadership and conversion copy for B2B audiences. I measure content by what it does for pipeline, using Salesforce, HubSpot, GA4, and SQL.
