SUMMARY

SEO practitioner and content strategist with 4+ years of hands-on technical SEO work, including audits, schema and structured data, and keyword gap analysis, built on 15+ years in B2B marketing and content creation. As founder of Solenzo, I build the AI-native workflows and automation that are reshaping SEO and content operations, not layering AI onto an existing process but designing around it from the start. Comfortable operating in ambiguity and building a function from scratch, evidenced by a 30% increase in website traffic and 25% improvement in conversion rates in an earlier digital growth role.
