SUMMARY

Marketing operator and builder with 15+ years shaping messaging, creating go-to-market assets, and driving cross-functional alignment across marketing, sales, and product. I turn complex products into clear narratives, build the collateral and processes that help teams sell, and I already run daily on AI, building LLM-based workflows that automate marketing production and analysis. Entrepreneurial and hands-on, comfortable owning a function and building it from proven examples rather than a playbook handed to me.
