Re: Implementation Discovery Lead (Evice)

Dear Hiring Team,

Discovery is the part of implementation that decides whether everything after it goes well, and it's the part I like most. At Accelo I scoped implementations of a CRM, project-management, and billing platform for professional-services firms, mapped how each firm actually worked, and built sequenced plans deciding which systems to change and in what order before handing them to the delivery team. At Wix I launched 25+ clients a month at 110% of my implementation target and coached onboarding teams of up to 30.

The data side of this role is familiar ground. I set up and validate data feeds into Salesforce, HubSpot, and GoHighLevel and re-check every import before anything goes live, and I document every requirement and decision so the team that supports the client after launch isn't guessing. I also escalate early: a risk raised at discovery is cheap, and the same risk found after go-live is not.

Benefits administration would be new to me, and I learn complex platforms quickly. I'd welcome a conversation at 303-726-5037 or jrotnbrg@gmail.com.

Best,

Joshua Rotenberg
