Re: Organic Social Media Manager

Dear Hiring Team,

Your posting says trends should be adapted to this audience, not adopted wholesale. That line tells me you know who you're talking to. I've spent years as a patient pushing to be taken seriously by the healthcare system, and I know how it feels when content talks down to you instead of with you.

I write for a living. At Solenzo, I grew my audience through organic LinkedIn content and a free-audit funnel that brought in 180+ businesses, and I write hooks, captions, and copy for several client brands at once, each in its own voice. I brief work tightly enough that it comes back right the first time, and I use AI writing tools every day while cutting anything that sounds generic.

I'll be straight about the gap: most of my social work has been LinkedIn and brand content, not a daily TikTok and Instagram channel. I learn platforms fast by living in them, and the harder parts of this role, the voice, the briefs, and the judgment about what serves this audience, are the parts I already do. Got time for a conversation this week?

Best,

Joshua Rotenberg
