SUMMARY

SEO and content practitioner with 15+ years in agency and marketing-operations work, owning on-page SEO, technical audits, and content production directly for B2B and local service clients. Writes thought leadership, guides, and landing pages personally, builds reusable templates and messaging frameworks instead of starting from scratch each time, and runs GA4/Search Console monitoring to catch underperforming content before it becomes a bigger problem. Uses Claude and ChatGPT daily inside real production workflows, and has built and documented SOPs for marketing and operational processes across concurrent client engagements.
