SUMMARY

Hands-on digital marketer with a decade of client-facing account experience and several years of direct campaign execution: paid search optimization, keyword research, SEO audits, and performance reporting for B2B and e-commerce clients. Comfortable managing a portfolio of accounts independently, translating campaign data into clear recommendations, and building the client trust that turns a single campaign into a lasting relationship. Currently running paid and organic acquisition for my own client base as founder of Solenzo, a hands-on marketing practice.
