SUMMARY

Marketing and revenue professional with 15+ years in B2B SaaS translating technical products into language buyers act on. Spent a decade selling sales and marketing software to the exact personas this role targets, then moved to building the systems behind it, so messaging gets tested against real objections rather than assumed. Developed sales training used by tenured account executives at Wix and built partner enablement toolkits at Birdeye. Now builds AI-driven prospecting and lead-generation systems at Solenzo, including contact enrichment, digital-footprint scoring, and automated outreach, which is the category Seamless competes in.
