SUMMARY

Revenue operations leader and CRM architect who blends a decade of quota-carrying sales experience, including a top-three ranking on an 8-15 rep sales team, with 5+ years architecting CRM and marketing-automation systems across GoHighLevel, HubSpot, and Salesforce. That combination, having carried the pipeline and then built the systems behind it, is what makes CRM governance, workflow automation, and process changes actually stick with a sales team instead of getting ignored. Comfortable owning a CRM environment end to end and turning it into a reliable operating system for sales and marketing.
