Re: Client Account Manager

Dear Hiring Team,

I'm applying for the Client Account Manager role because being the trusted point of connection between a client and every internal team that touches their success - Operations, IT, Finance, Product - is the work I've built my whole career around.

At Wix, I managed a high-value account portfolio as the client's primary strategic contact, coordinating with internal teams to deliver on commitments and driving measurable results (a 30% increase in traffic and 25% improvement in conversion across my e-commerce accounts). At Birdeye, I managed 15-20 reseller partners at roughly 94% retention, serving as the structured feedback channel between partners and Product/Engineering while tracking every commitment to resolution. Across Level Agency and Accelo, I built the executive-ready reporting and QBR cadence that keeps leadership informed on account health without surprises. Your values - Be Your Word, Resolve It Now, Be In Communication - describe how I've actually worked, not just how I'd like to.

I'd welcome the opportunity to bring that track record to your client portfolio. Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Joshua Rotenberg
