SUMMARY

Operations and enablement leader with 15+ years turning broad direction into structured plans, ready teams, and measurable results. At Wix, I led a team of 20 (later 8) and helped take a new vertical from proof of concept to a profitable business line, building the process, training, and data standards it ran on. At Birdeye, I enabled a channel of 15-20 reseller partners to sell and support the product, retaining all but one. As a founder and co-owner, I've built operations and compliance systems from nothing in a state-regulated business. I work well in ambiguity, keep leaders informed on risks and tradeoffs, and know which calls to make and which to escalate.
